BIO

As an Emmy Award Winning Television personality, internationally recognized public speaker and respected business and visibility coach, there are few things more harrowing than having your credibility and your image tarnished by scandal. When a crisis like this happens, you have two options. You either allow humiliation to envelop you, rumors to destroy your spirit and shame to break you, or you rise against injustice, use your voice to silence the criticism and rewrite the narrative surrounding you. This is the story of Darieth Chisolm.

A dynamic speaker having presented on over 500 stages worldwide and with over 30 years of experience in the media, Darieth was no stranger to the scrutiny that came with living life in the public eye. But when a jilted ex-boyfriend non-consensually published a website containing nude images of her that he had been secretly taking, attempting to use it as leverage for manipulation and blackmail, Darieth found herself unwillingly at the center of international attention. From confusion and despair to making history as the first person to successfully bring charges against a perpetrator under Jamaica's Malicious Communications and Cyber Crimes Act, Darieth used her story to launch a revolutionary social justice movement.

This movement is anchored by the 50 Shades of Silence documentary, a short film that marks her directorial debut and is currently screening in film festivals worldwide.

BIO

Today Darieth uses her platform to inspire audiences to turn their “mess into their message”, to use their story as currency and to build lives in alignment with their dreams using the art and business of storytelling. She is the author of Hustle! Why Now is the Time to Unleash your Passions, and is a contributing writer for Inspiring Lives and Woman of More magazines.

She has toured the country speaking on diverse platforms such as the World Woman Summit, the Metrowest Conference for Women and several TEDx stages. Her TED talk on cyber harassment has been translated into 15 different languages.

Throughout her decorated career, Darieth has received 2 Emmy wins, 6 Emmy nominations, and multiple awards for her work as a TV host and educator. She was the recipient of the 2018 Woman of Influence Award from the Pittsburgh Business Times and received a special recognition from the Senate of Pennsylvania for making an outstanding difference and profound impact in Pittsburgh.

She has been featured on the Megyn Kelly TODAY Show, The Dr. Oz Show, FOX News, In Health Magazine, and several other notable media outlets and publications, and is currently the host of CBS Eye on Health and the Emmy Award-winning iQ: smartparent on PBS.

Darieth travels extensively and spends her days hosting intimate high-level mastermind retreats, cultivating the Speak Serve Soar membership community, privately coaching entrepreneurs who want to build the business of their dreams, and preparing for her next appearance on the big stage.

50 SHADES OF SILENCE

50shadesofsilence.com

A GLOBAL MOVEMENT GIVING VOICE AND DIGNITY
TO VICTIMS OF CYBER HARASSMENT AND ONLINE CRIMES

Imagine waking up one day to find harassing memes, nude pictures and videos of yourself online. Images that you were not aware existed, you did not approve of and have no control of removing. The person who committed this atrocious act, you once lived with and loved, lives in a different country and wants to humiliate you and destroy your reputation, and no legislation or law enforcement can prevent this from occurring or ensure those pictures are removed.

This happened to Darieth Chisolm, and as a survivor of cyber sexual rape, cyber stalking, harassment, and extortion, Darieth decided to use her story, her voice and her platform to launch the 50 Shades of Silence movement and documentary.

Specifically as the founder, creator and executive producer of the documentary 50 Shades of Silence, Darieth aims to advocate for stricter laws and tougher enforcement for cyber sexual crimes; encourage the accountability and responsiveness among online companies; promote social responsibility for texting, posting and sharing online; and restore dignity and respect to victims and survivors.

50 Shades of Silence is a multimedia project that includes a documentary, a website with resources, educational material and support for victims.

Go to www.50shadesofsilence.com for media coverage, facts & figures, resources, support and more information about the documentary, now being accepted in film festivals worldwide and available for private screenings.
